

Study/Discussion Questions for "A Real Manly Man"

According to popular cultural values, what would be considered the three most essential character qualities of a manly man? Where does this overlap with the character qualities of a godly man?

If you could have asked God to make two things about you different than what they are, what two things would you have chosen to be different?

Most people feel they are compassionate in their heart even though their lives may at best reflect only sporadic acts of compassion. When was the last time you felt compassion in your heart but failed to act compassionately? What held you back?

Where do you need to be more courageous?

What does it mean to really live?