

Study/Discussion Questions for "A Change of Heart"

Where has God used pain in your life to begin a process of change?

God wants what is best for you but in many circumstances we still find it hard to surrender control and really believe Him. What are some of the factors that make it difficult to fully trust God and to trust His leading?

What are some of the sources of truth as well as sources of trash in your life? How can you tell the difference?

An old farmer was once told by an expert, "I can show you some new methods that will improve the way you take care of your land." But the farmer replied, "No thanks. I already know how to farm better than I do." Where you know what God wants you to do, where you know how to grow deeper in your spiritual life, what keeps you from following through?
