

Study/Discussion Questions for "The Battle Belongs to the Lord"

Most of us shift into different modes to meet different circumstances. When you're afraid, what is your first response?

Competency is comforting and reassuring, yet in many ways it is a false assurance. Relate a circumstance where you were confronted with your own inadequacy even though it may have involved an area of personal competency and even expertise.

When was the last time you called out to God in helplessness? What did you learn from it? How did you grow?

What's the hardest part in letting the choir lead the army? (Verse 21)

When you awake in the early pre-dawn hours, what is it that fills your mind? How do you handle it? How do you want to handle it?